

C2C STUDENT CONTRACT

The C2C Peer Advocate Program at Broward College has been designed to assist you to attain a degree or certificate. C2C is a three semester commitment including:

- Weekly group meetings,
- Off campus activities,
- Designated course work and contact with a peer advocate.

During your first year at Broward, you will be working on projects with your peer advocate and fellow classmates.

Your decision to participate in C2C is voluntary and should be taken seriously.

In order to participate, you must agree to comply with all of the program requirements. It is important, therefore, that you read and understand the following expectations carefully before you make this commitment.

- I will abide by the Broward College Code of Conduct.
- I will respect my professors and follow the rules they established for their classes.
- I will attend all classes; if I will not be able to attend, I will call or email my professor as soon as possible.
- I will complete the assigned work and I will submit it on time.
- I will attend required meetings and group activities with my peer advocate twice per month.
- I will contact and return contact with my peer advocate.
- In my first semester, I will participate in a co-curricular service learning project with my peer advocate
- In my second semester, I will register for the C2C allocated section of computer literacy (CGS1060C)
- In my third semester, I will attend all C2C math support systems.
- I am responsible for my academic performance and will use all resources that are available to me to ensure my success.
- I commit to successfully complete this program to the best of my ability

- I agree to contact and meet with my Student Advisor at least twice during the term to discuss my progress.
- Upon early exit from C2C I will meet with my advisor for an exit interview.
- In case of emergencies I will contact my Peer Advocate, the Lead Peer Advocate or the Student Success Coordinator immediately.

I have read and fully understand the expectations, responsibilities, and duties listed above. In consideration of my participation in the Connect2Complete Program, I agree to abide by the terms of the agreement. I understand and acknowledge that my failure to abide by the terms of this agreement may result in my removal from the program.
