Thank you for your interest in Broward Community College.

Thirty-two years ago my desire for a higher education led me to start my personal journey at a community college. I have spent most of my career in community colleges because I have seen again and again how they give students the tools to succeed as they work to shape their destiny.

Whether you plan to go on to complete a four-year degree or to enter the workforce upon graduation, BCC is committed to providing you the support and opportunity to succeed. At BCC, outstanding professors teach in cutting-edge facilities and laboratories with state-of-the-art technology. Learning takes place in a personalized environment where the focus is on the student.

In nearly a half-century of serving more than one million students, the mission at BCC remains to provide an excellent higher education that is accessible and affordable. Whatever your experiences and background, I know you will feel at home at one of our campuses. At BCC you can take the first steps in achieving your personal and professional goals.
