Continuing education and workforce development is supplemental to formal education and, therefore, most appropriate as short-term, non-credit offerings.

Offerings are available at all campus sites and various off campus facilities. Day, evening, and weekend classes provide opportunities for continuing education. The format for classes includes seminars, workshops, short and long-term courses and special educational programs. College credit courses, as well as on-line are also available. Contracted instructional services meet the needs of individual institutions, agencies, or groups.

Non-credit and credit courses are in the publication, Continuing Education and Workforce Development, Health Sciences, which is linked online and published three times a year. Additional flyers announce individual offerings periodically. For information regarding these programs contact Continuing Education/Workforce Development, Health Science at (954) 201-6768.
