How to use calculator: 1. Enter existing/current GPA in first box. 2. Enter the number of credits that GPA is based on in second box. If you are unsure of this figure contact your academic advisor for guidance. (The number of credits is very important; the greater the number of credits you have already taken the greater the ‘weight’ of your current GPA.)
Enter the number of credit hours for each class you plan to take along with the expected grade for each class. A grade of “A” is the default in these boxes; you will need to select the appropriate expected grade from the drop down menu for each class.
4. Click “Calculate GPA” button at bottom of page.

5. Resulting/prospective GPA will appear here. This is the GPA that results from combining your ‘to-date’ GPA with your expected future grades.
6. Click “Reset Form” button to remove figures and start a new calculation.
