ACADEMIC Service-Learning

What you do (and what you don’t do) makes a difference!
Learning Outcomes for Today:

✓ Have a better understanding of Academic Service Learning and what distinguishes it from volunteering
✓ Get examples of BC Faculty AS-L initiatives in the past
✓ Learn the benefits of AS-L courses
✓ Obtain ideas on AS-L opportunities
✓ Share best practices with colleagues
What is your definition of Academic Service Learning?
ACADEMIC SERVICE LEARNING:
A method whereby participants learn and develop through active participation in thoughtfully organized service that is conducted in and meets the needs of a community; is coordinated with an elementary school, secondary school, institution of higher education, or community service program, and with the community; helps foster civic responsibility; is integrated into and enhances the academic curriculum of the participants or the education components of the community service program in which the participants are enrolled; and provides structured time for the participants to reflect on the service experience.

- Corporation for National & Community Service
In other words...

Academic Service Learning connects the academic curriculum – what students learn in class – with service in the community, working with local community agencies.
What Distinguishes Academic Service-Learning?

Academic Service-Learning

- Relevant and meaningful service with the community
- Enhanced Academic Learning
- Purposeful Civic Learning and Civic Engagement
What areas can you work on for AS-L initiative? Your choice, as long as “It Matters!”

Benefits of Academic Service-Learning

For Students...
✓ Apply classroom knowledge
✓ Awareness of social issues
✓ Develop critical thinking skills
✓ Develop life skills
✓ Broaden horizons
✓ Resume building and networking
✓ Explore career options
Student Retention

Extensive research by Kuh (2008) suggests increased rates of student engagement when implementing high impact practices such as research with faculty, internships or field experiences, academic service-learning, study abroad, and culminating senior experiences.

Research indicates that increased student engagement in learning is a key factor in lowering attrition rates and increasing graduation rates.

Benefits of Academic Service-Learning
For Faculty:

✓ Incorporate diverse teaching styles
✓ Represent the college for best teaching practices
✓ Further engage students
✓ Partner with the community
✓ Obtain opportunities for research/publishing
Benefits of Academic Service-Learning

• For College...
  ✓ Increase partnerships with the community
  ✓ Enhanced public image
  ✓ Meet strategic plan goals and objectives
  ✓ Recruitment tool
  ✓ Enhance student satisfaction
  ✓ Foster citizenry

• For Community ...
  ✓ Additional expertise for community development
  ✓ Strengthen advocacy efforts
  ✓ Enhance public awareness of community needs
  ✓ Build long-lasting relationships
  ✓ Participate in the students’ academic experience
  ✓ Bring education beyond the classroom

Internships, Volunteering and Service-Learning

Internship
Emphasizes knowledge and skill development over community service

Service-Learning
Equally prioritizes community service and student learning needs

Volunteer Service
Emphasizes community needs over student learning needs
Principles of Good Practice in Combining Service and Learning

An effective and sustained program:

1. Engages people in responsible and challenging actions for the common good.
2. Provides structured opportunities for people to reflect critically on their service experience.
3. Articulates clear service and learning goals for everyone involved.
4. Allows for those with needs to define those needs.
5. Clarifies the responsibilities of each person and organization involved.
6. Matches service providers and service needs through a process that recognizes changing circumstances.
7. Expects genuine, active, and sustained organizational commitment.
8. Includes training, supervision, monitoring, support, recognition, and evaluation to meet service and learning goals.
9. Insures that the time commitment for service and learning is flexible, appropriate, and in the best interest of all involved.
10. Is committed to program participation by and with diverse populations.

RELEVANT AND MEANINGFUL SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

OBJECTIVES

- Apply the principles of academic service learning to global populations with limited resources.

- Analyze the impact of global academic service learning on health screening outcomes of underserved and unserved populations.

- Highlight the importance of knowing foreign languages and cultures in our global society, and applying the knowledge in a foreign country.

- Illustrate by comparing and contrasting the importance and benefits of providing community service locally and internationally using academic service learning as a teaching-learning strategy to enhance cultural competence among RN-BSN students.

SWOT Analysis 2014-2015

- Strength: People were receptive to services provided.

- Weakness: Safety (personal and traffic) and sanitary issues prevailed.

- Opportunities: Health, education, and nutritional services.

- Threads: The Ecuadorian culture, such as marked class division (haves and have-nots; quality of life in the city compared to the rural areas)
Project Outcomes 2014-2015

- Promoted academic enhancement, personal growth and civic learning in an international setting.
- Provided health care screenings and education to underserved and unserved populations in Guayaquil Ecuador.
- Immersed students in global health care practices as well as academic service-learning projects, both locally and internationally.
- Developed and enhanced student global cultural competences.
Program Plan 2014/2015

• Local Service completed prior to international visit
  – Hope Outreach Center – Davie, Florida: 8 weeks

• International Service at 7 different locations: 2 weeks in total
  – Guayas Province

• Over 600 screenings

Ready to incorporate AS-L in your classes? No problem!

*Identify the three necessary criteria of Academic Service-Learning (A S-L):
  - Relevant and meaningful with the community
  - Enhanced Academic Learning
  - Sustainable Civic Engagement

*Determine explicit connections between the course learning outcomes and community needs

*Identify elements for establishing authentic collaborative Academic Service-Learning partnerships

*Explore options for critical reflection that supports specific Academic Service-Learning experiences
