MILITARY TRAINING AND/OR EXPERIENCE

Upon request from students who are currently enrolled in degree or certificate programs, Broward College will conduct an evaluation of educational experiences in the armed forces and award postsecondary-level credit at the freshman and/or sophomore levels, when appropriate. The evaluation procedure will be comprised of two types of military experiences. TYPE I will be the evaluation of military courses listed in the Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services, American Council on Education (http://www.acenet.edu/news-room/Pages/Military-Guide-Online.aspx). TYPE II will be the evaluation of other military training and experiences by Prior Learning Assessment (see subsequent section). Students will be responsible for obtaining and providing authentic records that fully document educational experiences in the armed services. The College official responsible for the award of academic credit must be satisfied that the documents are official and represent a true and correct record of military courses or experiences that are presented for evaluation.
TYPE I experiences, will be administered by the Registrar’s Office. The Registrar will receive and evaluate petitions for military courses in the same manner as other incoming transfer credit. Students will provide appropriate evidence of successful completion of courses and sufficient course descriptions to identify specific courses in the Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services. Only courses equivalent to lower division college courses and those that are appropriate for credit in an academic program offered by Broward College will be considered. Such courses, when possible, will be classified as equivalent to a specific Broward College course and will be assigned a corresponding common course number. Other credits that cannot be equated to a specific course will be described as electives in the discipline area and may be used as substitutes for Broward College courses only when authorized by the appropriate academic department.

TYPE II military training and experiences will be processed through Prior Learning Assessment upon request by the student or upon referral of unidentifiable military courses by the College Registrar. Assessments will be conducted by the academic department responsible for the discipline area. All credits awarded for TYPE II will be classified and given corresponding Broward College course numbers.

PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT (EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING ASSESSMENT)

Credit for demonstration of knowledge acquired through previous training, work experience, volunteer work, or intensive self-directed study shall be granted by academic departments responsible for assessing the course competencies. Assessment methods include: certificate or license evaluation; written, oral, or performance exams; portfolio and/or resume evaluations; clinical or on-site evaluations; or a combination of methods. The assessment process may also be referred to as "challenging a course." Students may only challenge courses that are NOT available through CLEP.

Qualified personnel, usually an academic advisor, shall review with the student his/her background to determine which courses, if any, may be challenged. If eligible, the student will be provided with assessment information, including assessment type, cut-off points for objective exams, recommendations of resources for review, course objectives, and guidelines for portfolio development. The student will be referred to appropriate academic departments for assessment administration, after the student has paid the assessment fee. To be granted credit for a course, the student must receive satisfactory scores (i.e. regular standards for a passing grade) on all components of the assessment. Credit awarded through the Prior Learning Assessment/Experiential Learning Assessment process will be identified as such on the student's transcript by the Registrar’s Office. Per Article 5.45 of the Collective Bargaining Agreement, “Guided Independent Study Pay, Internship and Experiential Learning,” faculty administering assessments outside of their regular working hours will be paid their hourly rate by rank.
