What was the key take-away you learned?

- 3-2-1, A-3....
- Additional CT strategies
- Combining pedagogical with content and active learning activities.
- Engaging students in critical thinking requires a deliberate/systematic approach.
- Excellent activities that I can implement.
- Focus on the purpose of activities and how that connects to their structure and length.
- Have the students use the 4C lenses to evaluate the model we use in one of my classes.
- Learning is a process based on stages - it has to connect and resonate deeply with students and teachers - it is a painful challenge with hopefully sweet results
- Many Q's. Find essential questions: How will we enrich students' intellectual thinking?
- Read discussions differently than I had before
- Strategies to get students better engaged.
- Strategies to improve your teaching; questioning for clarification; 4 C's: concepts, connections, challenges, changes. SEE-I. Deck of cards.
- There are a myriad of ways we can have students become facilitators of knowledge.
- There are techniques to overcome zombie behavior ---> don't give up hope.

Please use the following space to provide any additional comments you may have.

- Great ideas and take-aways. I will use several of these strategies. I felt very engaged. Thank you!
- Enoch was excellent. His command of the learning experiences he demonstrated shows his expertise and experience.
- Another fruitful workshop!
- My biggest takeaway are the activities I learned today such as 3-2-1 and the deck of cards.
- Nice workshop!
- TY! (Thank you!)
- Missed your videos!
- I learned a lot! Much that can be applied
