

Information for Florida Residency Classification

A Florida “resident for tuition purposes” is a person who has, or a dependent person whose parent or legal guardian has, established and maintained legal residence in Florida for at least 12 months. Residence in Florida must be a bona fide domiciliary rather than for the purpose of maintaining a residence incident to enrollment at an institution of higher education. Other persons not meeting the 12-month legal residence requirement may be classified as Florida “residents for tuition purposes” only if they fall within one of the limited special categories authorized by the Florida Legislature.

To qualify as a Florida “resident for tuition purposes” a student must be a U.S. citizen, permanent resident alien, or a legal alien granted indefinite stay by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Service (USCIS). Living in or attending school in Florida does not establish legal residence. Students who depend on out-of-state parents for support are presumed to be legal residents of that state. Documents supporting the establishment of legal residence must be dated, issued, or filed 12 months before the first day of classes in the term for which a Florida resident classification is sought.

All other persons are ineligible for classification as a Florida “resident for tuition purposes” and will be charged non-resident tuition.

DEFINITIONS

Independent: 24 years of age or older by the first day of classes; married; has children who receive more than half of their support from the student; has other dependents who live with and receive more than half of their support from the student; is a veteran of the United States Armed Forces or is currently serving on active duty; both of the student’s parents are deceased; or the student is/was (until age 18) a ward/dependent of the court.

Dependent: All students who do not meet the definition of an independent student shall be classified as dependent for the determination of residency for tuition purposes.
