

D2L Brightspace (New) Content Experience

This semester you will have an opportunity to opt-in for the New Content Experience in D2L Brightspace.

The D2L Brightspace New Content Experience is a redesigned course content interface that improves how students and faculty interact with course materials. Students benefit from a cleaner, more intuitive layout with easier navigation, better progress tracking, and a more consistent learning experience across courses. Faculty gain a streamlined, modern interface for organizing, managing, and delivering course content while maintaining the flexibility to create engaging, accessible learning experiences.

Your fall courses will have the following opt-in pop-up upon Content area Access.

You may decide to turn it on, or leave it off and continue to work in the classic. Please note that your choice will also impact the student view.

Once the pop-up no longer appears on the top of the page, you may change your mind by clicking on the top right hand side of the page.
