REGALIA

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. Today, European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, and American colleges and universities adopted a system which all could follow. In 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward College follows the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's or baccalaureate degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree, when earned by study, indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve. A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; ENGINEERING, orange; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, they may wear a tassel in gold or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century), they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

At Broward College, academic distinction is noted by the addition of one or both of the following to the graduate's regalia: The tri-cords in royal blue, white and antique gold represent the academic distinction of membership in the Robert "Bob" Elmore Honors College. The gold satin stole and gold tassel represents the academic distinction of membership in Phi Theta Kappa. Veterans of the United States Armed forces wear a silver medallion to signify their service to our nation. Students wearing the navy blue and silver intertwined cord are graduating from Broward College with a minimum of a 3.5 GPA.

BROWARD COLLEGE

Created by the Florida Legislature in 1959, Broward College has the second-largest enrollment within the Florida College System (FCS). The College has more than 63,000 students and 5,000 full-time and part-time faculty and staff who together represent 150 countries and speak more than 50 languages.

Broward College fulfills its mission each day to provide high-quality educational programs and services that are affordable and accessible to a diverse community of learners by offering first-time college students, non-traditional students, and career professionals 67 academic programs in eight career-related pathways. Academic programs include specialized certificates, two and four-year degrees. The College also offers non-degree training, workforce readiness, and an extensive list of continuing education curricula across its three campuses, Broward College Online, and eight specialized centers.

Broward College also offers a wide variety of extracurricular activities focused on enriching the student experience, creating socially conscious student awareness, and developing global student perspectives.

Broward College is well known for the quality of its programs offered to students locally and in its international centers and affiliates located in 14 countries across the globe. The 2020 U.S. News & World Report, the global authority in education, ranked Broward College as one of the top Regional Colleges in the South. In April 2019, the College was recognized as one of the Top 10 community colleges in the nation by the Aspen Prize for Community College Excellence. This is the third time the Aspen Institute has named Broward College a Top 10 institute since the competition launched in 2011. In 2017, the College was named a Finalist with Distinction and one of the top three community colleges in the nation.

Also, in 2019, Broward College received the IIE Andrew Heiskell Award for Innovation in International Education. The College received the award under the International Partnerships category in recognition of its initiative 'The Third Way,' which allows students to stay in their home country and complete an associate degree with Broward College before transferring to a college or university in the U.S. In 2018, Diverse Issues in Higher Education ranked the College first across the United States for associate degrees conferred to African-American students and second for associate degrees conferred to Hispanic students. In that same year, the Broward College nursing program was named one of eight winners nationwide for the inaugural Siemens-Aspen Community College STEM Award by the Aspen Institute College Excellence Program (CEP) and the Siemens Foundation. The College was also named one of the Top Five Training Institutes for the State Officer Certification Exam (SOCE) in 2018. Broward College graduates received the highest pass rate of 96 percent in the state.
